EOIs sought for Hort Innovation Strategic Investment Advisory Panel for avocados

Avocados Australia is calling on the country's avocado growers and other key stakeholders, who have the knowledge and skills to provide avocado industry R&D and marketing investment advice, to apply for the newly-created Hort Innovation Strategic Investment Advisory Panel for Avocados.

Avocados Australia's CEO John Tyas said Hort Innovation is now advertising for Expressions of Interest for the panel from suitably qualified avocado growers and other industry stakeholders.

The grower based panel will provide strategic investment advice to Hort Innovation in relation to avocado levy funded projects and programs.

The panel will be guided by the strategic priorities set out in the current Avocado Strategic Investment Plan, click here to view this plan.

Prospective panel members are required to detail their experience and business roles, wider industry involvement, describe the key issues facing the sector, their knowledge, skills and approach they may take, as well as any additional information.

"I strongly urge anyone who is interested in providing the advice needed to guide these investments for our industry to get involved in this panel," Mr Tyas said.
